MAGAZINE

Wysokie Obcasy is a supplement magazine to the Saturday issue of Gazeta Wyborcza. It is read by women who are looking for original content, who are ambitious, curious about the world, and socially involved. The magazine gives them the feeling of being a part of the women's community in which one can find inspiration to fulfil one's dreams and plans.

The world is full of women who do truly unusual things. We write about them, stressing that one needn't be perfect to be able to act. Our readers find both their careers and their families important. Therefore, a large part of this magazine is dedicated to subjects related to personal growth, psychology, sex, health, and ecology. Twice a year we release trend editions dedicated to fashion and design (increased page count, varnished cover, increased promotion).

They are open to others, interested in the world, and not just the clean, perfect versions of it.
